Total Now Over 8,000

More Leathernecks
Land In Viet Nam

By JOHN T. WHEELER

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP)—A new landing of U.S. Marines brought the total number of leathernecks in South Viet Nam today to more than 3,000 guarding American installations and light rain fell as a battalion of 1,400 Marines moved ashore from the transports Henrico, Union and Cook and the new amphibious assault ship Vancouver.

A landing-party commander said the operation was routine. Rain and low clouds delayed for several hours movement of the Marines by helicopter to Phu Bai airport, 35 miles to the north near the city of Hue. The weather lifted late in the morning, and the troop movement began.

About the same time government troops launched a helicopter assault on a company of Viet Cong about 12 miles south of the Marines' landing beach.

Initial reports said a government ranger and five Viet Cong were killed, and two rangers were wounded.

The Viet Cong made no attempt to interfere with the Marine landing. Three government rangers were reported wounded and several guerrillas killed during a clearing operation in the area Tuesday.

Taking up positions around Hue, the new arrivals will guard an important air strip there and provide security for approaches to bustling Da Nang air base, the staging area for many of the U.S. and Vietnamese planes striking against North Viet Nam.

The Marines waded ashore, took up defensive positions on the beach and then began to relax.

Some of the Marines in full combat gear took photographs of their buddies. They declined to give their names or hometowns, saying they were under orders not to talk to newsmen.

Arrival of the 3rd Battalion of the 4th Regiment, formerly stationed at Hawaii, put four battalions of Marines in the Da Nang-Hue area, in the extreme north of this war-torn country.

CONTINUE DRAGGING
ILLINOIS RIVER
FOR MISSING SCOUT

LA SALLE, Ill. (AP)—Police continued dragging operations in the Illinois River today for a 12-year-old La Grange Boy Scout who disappeared Saturday in Starved Rock State Park.

The boy, Charles W. Brizius, on a hike with 20 other scouts and six adults, was last seen near a cliff above the river, police said.

Sheriff James Callahan of La Salle County said the park had been searched completely several times and he assumed the boy was in the river.

The boy's father, Charles O. Brizius, a Chicago attorney, joined in the search Tuesday.

Century Ago Today
Booth Shot Lincoln

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY
WASHINGTON (AP)—Standing inside Ford's Theater, amid the rubble of reconstruction work, a historian muses fancifully:

"Could it be that the ghost of George Washington was the first to exact punishment from the assassin of Abraham Lincoln?"

One hundred years ago tonight, John Wilkes Booth, hard-drinking actor, stole into a box where Lincoln was enjoying the play "Our American Cousin," and shot him in the back of the head. The wounded president was carried across the street to a boarding house, where he died the following morning.

After firing the fatal shot, Booth stabbed a military aide. Then he vaulted over the balustrade of the box to the stage 11 feet below.

In his jump, one of the spurs Booth was wearing caught on a picture of Washington which decorated the box. It also tore the edge of a flag draped above the picture.

When Booth hit the stage, a bone in his left leg was broken.

New Archbishop
For Chicago
Not Easy Choice

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Vatican sources said today that Pope Paul VI may take several months to name a new archbishop of Chicago to replace Albert Gregory Meyer.

"It is premature to speculate on who the next archbishop might be," one source said.

Among prelates believed to be most likely candidates for Chicago archbishop are: Archbishop Leo Binz of St. Paul, Minn.; Paul J. Hallinan of Atlanta, Ga.; John Patrick Cody of New Orleans; William E. Cousins of Milwaukee; Joseph Thomas McGucken of San Francisco; and Bishops John Joseph Wright of Pittsburgh, Pa.; and James Alloysius McNulty of Buffalo, N.Y. Archbishop Cousins replaced Cardinal Meyer at Milwaukee when the cardinal was appointed archbishop of Chicago.

Vatican sources said they could think of "at least 30 American prelates who might be in line" for the post.

SEPARATED SIAMESE
TWINS GO HOME

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—"They don't need a doctor anymore," a hospital spokesman in Houston said Tuesday when the Webber Siamese twins were discharged from Texas Children's Hospital—25 days after being separated by a team of surgeons.

The twins, Karen Marie and Kimberly Marie, were accompanied by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Webber Jr. on the 80-mile trip to their home in Bay City, Tex. The twins, born Dec. 8, 1964, had common liver, breastbone and heart membrane areas.

Gov. Otto Kerner and his nominee, Gray, were bitter and blamed the committee action on enemies of FEPC.

Sen. W. Russell Arrington, Republican majority leader, said the majority decision was intended to improve FEPC administration.

Charge Assault
On Negro Leader
In Bogalusa

By BILL CRIDER

BOGALUSA, La. (AP)—A white man was under charges today of assault with a blackjack on James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality.

Three other white men also have been charged in connection with incidents growing out of last Friday's civil rights march here, led by Farmer.

The arrests Tuesday night were announced today by Bogalusa Mayor Jesse H. Cutrer.

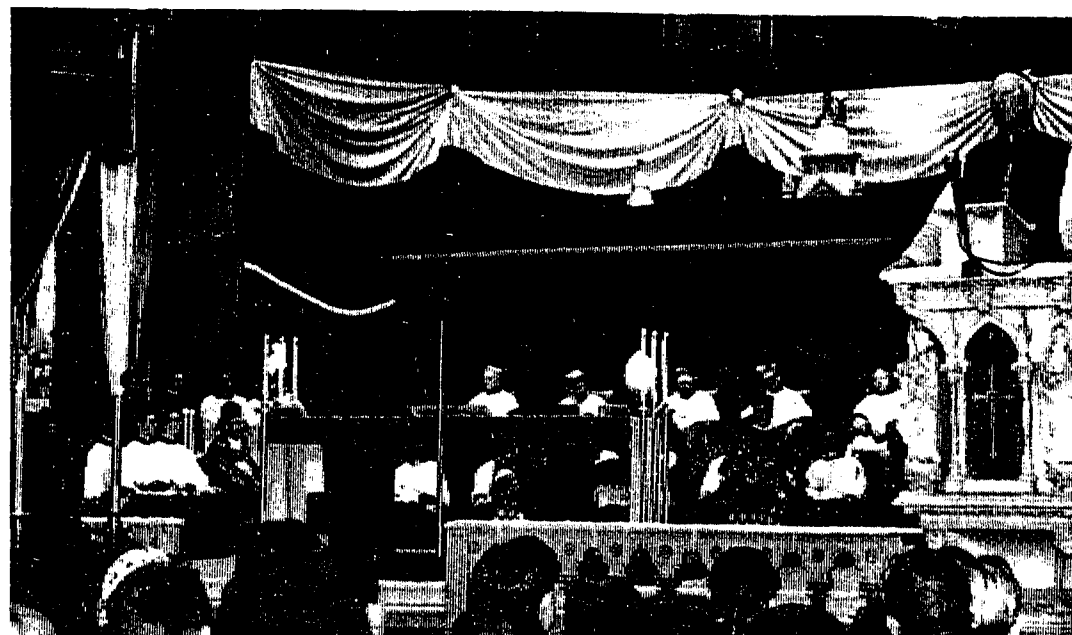

Randall C. Pounds, 39, of the Bogalusa area, was charged with the assault on Farmer. The mayor said Pounds had the blackjack raised, but did not actually strike Farmer. A policeman seized the blackjack.

Bill Alford, 30, Bogalusa, was charged with battery on Robert Price, Negro.

Charles McClendon, 33, and Latimore McNeese, 35, both of Bogalusa, were charged with disturbing the peace during Friday's march.

All four defendants were released on $300 bond each.

Cutrer said 60 merchants turned out Tuesday afternoon to negotiate with civil rights leaders who threatened to picket stores today unless more and better jobs were opened to qualified Negroes. The merchants named a committee of 15 who, Cutrer said, waited until night, but no civil rights negotiators appeared.

Open Housing Bill
Goes To House Floor

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—A Republican-backed bill on open housing went to the floor today with the endorsement of the Illinois House Executive Committee.

Rep. Nobel Lee, R-Chicago, said Tuesday his bill was preferable to one approved by the committee last week because his proposal does not provide for a commission to hear complaints about discrimination and seek court action.

Under Lee's bill, a person could be charged with violation of the Illinois Civil Rights Law if he failed to rent, sell or lease property because of race or creed. The maximum penalty would be a $1,000 fine.

The Executive Committee voted 21-4 in recommending passage of a Senate bill increasing salaries of legislators from the present $6,000 to $9,000 a year.

Turned down by the committee was a resolution seeking an investigation of Circuit Judge George N. Leighton of Chicago, who touched off a dispute when he freed two men charged with attacking two off-duty policemen.

Shunted to a subcommittee was a measure calling for creation of an Illinois State Board of Education. Rep. Paul Edward of Chicago, Democratic whip, said the administration opposed it.

In other action, the House Education Committee attempted to reach a compromise by amending a compulsory school attendance bill supported by Gov. Otto Kerner.

In its original form, the bill proposed to raise the age from 16 to 18. The committee lowered it to 17 but then put off a vote on the revised bill.

Elderly Widow
Tells Of Being Blown Into Lake

HILLSDALE, Mich. (AP)—"And they thought I had a bad heart," an 80-year-old widow said today as she told how she was blown 700 feet into a lake by a tornado.

She survived by clinging to wreckage from her home.

Mrs. Hugh Norris, who lived alone, said she was sitting in her two-story frame home at nearby Baw Beese Lake Sunday night when a storm struck.

"The house shook and made a lot of noise," she said. "The lights went out. So I went up stairs to my bedroom and found I couldn't open the door."

"I went back downstairs, lit two kerosene lanterns and started writing a letter. I just couldn't sit there and do nothing. Then the noise started again. The table began to tip. I fell down. I can't remember when I felt the water. It kept coming up until it reached my chin."

Realizing she was in the lake, Mrs. Norris managed to reach a large piece of floating debris which once had been part of her home.

"I called and called. There was no answer. Then I heard voices calling," she said.

The voices were those of Dr. D.D. Walker and Larry Raymond, neighbors of Mrs. Norris. Dr. Walker said that when he managed to locate where the voice was coming from out of the night-shrouded lake he walked out into the water until it reached his neck. He found Mrs. Norris and carried her back to shore.

NOT TOO NERVOUS
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A witness to a liquor store holdup Tuesday night said the armed robber commented, "I'm so nervous I don't think I can go through with it."

His nerve turned out to be pretty strong.

Mary Deeb, the owner, said the man left with $150.

Engineers Walk
Out At Chicago
Belt Railway

CHICAGO (AP)—Engineers struck the Belt Railway of Chicago today and management obtained a court order to restore service.

CHICAGO (AP)—Engineers struck the Belt Railway of Chicago today.

The railroad, a switching line, connects with all the rail lines serving Chicago. It also hauls freight for 400 industries and is the only line handling cargo for 180 plants in the huge Clearing industrial area on the southwest fringe of the city.

J.R. Ekholm, secretary-treasurer of the Belt Railway, said the walkout began at 5:30 a.m. All 175 engineers are out, he added, and have set up picket lines.

"All other organizations," Ekholm said, "no doubt will obey the picket lines."

He predicted all rail traffic moving through Chicago will be affected.

Ekholm said the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers objects to radios in the cabs of the locomotives. They are used so conductors in cabooses can communicate with engineers.

Cigarette And Utility Tax Hike
Over One Hurdle

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Administration proposals to hike cigarette and utility taxes by $75 million a year have cleared their first hurdle in the Illinois General Assembly.

The House Revenue Committee endorsed the bills Tuesday after accepting amendments offered by Rep. Clyde Choate of Anna, Democratic majority leader.

The cigarette tax would double the present tax of 4 cents a pack and produce $56.6 million in new revenue. Utility taxes would be boosted from the current 3 percent to as much as 4 percent and yield about $19 million a year.

Under Choate's amendment, the rebate to cigarette distributors would be cut in half. Instead of being 5 percent on the first $700,000 collected, the rebate would be 2 1/2 percent.

The refund would be 1 percent instead of the present 2 percent for taxes collected over $2.1 million.

Also under Choate's amendment, taxes on electric and natural gas sales and messages would be somewhere between 3 and 4 percent, depending on what percentage the state revenue department figures is necessary to produce $19 million in added revenue annually from the three categories.

Gov. Otto Kerner's proposals to increase gasoline, harness and race track taxes have not yet been considered by the committee.

Storm-Hit
Area Braces
For Floods

By The Associated Press

The battered Midwest, stricken on Sunday by the worst tornado barrage in 40 years, braced today for fresh devastation from flooding.

The rain and ice-swollen Mississippi River, stirred to life by the spring thaw, spilled downstream at record heights, perilous scores of communities.

The Red Cross estimated that 31,000 persons were affected by flooding in five states — Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, North Dakota and Illinois.

Hardest hit was Minnesota, where disaster workers and volunteers battled in around-the-clock vigils to extend dikes as the waters rose every hour.

Life was disrupted. In St. Paul, Minn., population 350,000, businesses were shut down, schools were closed and transportation was crippled.

Flooding was blamed for 11 deaths, more than $20 million damage and the evacuation of thousands of families. The river, to crest at a record 27 feet late Thursday or Friday, was expected eventually to drive 21,000 St. Paul residents from their homes.

Below Minnesota, river cities began to prepare for the battle against the Mississippi River. At Hannibal, Mo., merchant-sandbagged basement windows and warehouses.

Grain terminals along the river's edge suspended operations. Railroads curtailed passenger and freight service in low areas. In Wisconsin, the Red Cross opened warehouses in La Crosse to store the belongings of flood victims. More than 235 families were evacuated from nearby French Island. A flood center was opened at Prairie du Chien, 60 miles to the south.

All available city employees in La Crosse, along with National Guardsmen, were ordered to work on the city's sandbagging operations. County officials made heavy equipment available.

The Mississippi River was expected to crest over the 15-foot mark by Friday. La Crosse is about 70 miles downriver from St. Paul.

The worst is yet to come for much of the Midwest along the Mississippi River, but in Ohio, Indiana and Michigan weary workers stayed on the job, cleaning up the effects of Palm Sunday's tornadoes.

CABLE CARS RETURN

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—The cable cars of San Francisco rattled back into action today after a three-week layoff for cable refurbishing.

The renowned rinkydinks, declared a U.S. National Monument recently, were temporarily replaced by a fleet of diesel buses that struggled smokily up the city's formidable hills.

Noting that newspaper reporters are permitted to cover commission proceedings, Keller observed: "We feel that radio and television are being treated as sort of second class citizens."

Tom Miller of WBBK, Chicago, vice president of the Illinois Broadcasters Association, also urged adoption of the bill.

COURAGEOUS ACT GETS RECOGNITION AT LAST

CHICAGO (AP)—After four years of patient waiting, Lawrence H. Boyd, 43, is finally receiving recognition for a courageous act he performed March 29, 1961.

That day, Boyd, a Negro, went to the aid of two white youths who were being attacked by three Negroes on a South Side street.

When Boyd, then a cab driver, tried to help the youths get away, one of the assailants drew a pistol and shot him in the chest.

Acclaimed a hero at the time of his rescue, Boyd says he was promised an award for his bravery and payment of his medical bills.

The chief of detectives was not available for comment.

Boyd lost the use of his right arm. He could not return to driving a cab and he and his wife, Erlene, lived on the $65 a week she earned as a dressmaker clerk. Boyd is now working in a factory.

Their debts gradually mounted and Boyd now owes $9,000.

Last week, Alderman Robert H. Miller, in whose ward Boyd lives, heard of Boyd's predicament. Miller introduced a resolution in the city council thanking Boyd and asking that he be given a reward to help pay his medical bills.

The resolution received notice in newspapers and several days later, Boyd received his Provident Hospital bill marked "paid."

"But when I came out of the hospital everyone seemed to have forgotten," he said. "I've had nothing but heartache ever since."

However, a spokesman for the Illinois Medical Society said he had talked with Boyd Tuesday and was checking into Boyd's report.

"Boyd told me that he did not talk personally to anybody at the society," the spokesman said. "But that he heard over a radio newscast four years ago that the Illinois Medical Society would take care of the bills."

Promises Help From
Federal GovernmentPresidential
Succession Bill
Gets House OK

By JOHN BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House has approved a proposed constitutional amendment designed to insure the smooth flow of presidential power when a president becomes physically or mentally disabled.

By a 368-29 margin, the House moved to plug a gap left in the Constitution by the Founding Fathers. On a roll call late Tuesday, 246 Democrats and 122 Republicans voted for the proposal, 21 Democrats and 8 Republicans voted against it.

The Senate, which passed a similar amendment two months ago, must accept minor changes made by the House or work out a compromise before congressional action is completed.

Three-fourths of the states — 38 — must ratify it before it would become the 25th amendment to the Constitution.

House action brought close to the finish years of work by many leading lawyers and constitutional experts to provide a constitutional method for guarding against a break in the exercise of presidential duties.

The amendment actually deals with two problems, filling a vacancy in the office of vice president, and fixing a procedure for having the vice president assume the powers and duties of the chief executive's office when the president is disabled.

The proposed method for filling a vice presidential vacancy is to have the president appoint one, subject to confirmation by majority vote in the House and Senate.

Johnson, who is heading on to inspect flood damage in the Minneapolis-St. Paul area and more tornado havoc near Toledo, Ohio, made a series of stops in the Elkhart area.

Before leaving Indiana to make an aerial inspection of affected sections of Illinois and Wisconsin en route to Minnesota, Johnson stopped at a rescue center at the Concord Township fire station, where he greeted (Continued On Page Nine)

CRIME PROBE OPEN TO RADIO, TV BILL
HELD IN COMMITTEE

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—A measure to permit the Illinois Crime Investigating Commission to open its hearings to radio and television has been bottled up in the House Executive Committee.

The bill was held in committee Tuesday on a tie vote.

Oliver J. Keller Sr., general manager and president of WTAX, Springfield, told the committee that radio and television coverage of commission hearings would be in the public interest.

Noting that newspaper reporters are permitted to cover commission proceedings, Keller observed: "We feel that radio and television are being treated as sort of second class citizens."

Tom Miller of WBBK, Chicago, vice president of the Illinois Broadcasters Association, also urged adoption of the bill.

GROUP ATTENDS LENTEN SERVICE AT CHANDLERVILLE

CHANDLERVILLE—Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Jurgens of Ashland were Wednesday evening visitors of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Jurgens and accompanied them to Lenten services held at the Lutheran church. A choir from the Lutheran church at Jacksonville participated in the service.

TO THE VOTERS IN THE 3RD WARD

I have enjoyed representing you as alderman the past 4 years and I hope you intend to retain me next Tuesday. Yes, I voted against any and all resolutions and ordinances pertaining to the last 3 Municipal Parking Lots because some private firm should have sponsored them. Then the City would have had that $300,000.00 for a new City Hall, disposal plant needs, sub station fire house in the West end and etc.

I voted against the parking meter increase. This did not help the downtown area. I introduced the bill for reducing the same meters to 5c.

Now that Jacksonville is on the go again we have an increase in automobile traffic. Three times a day there is traffic congestion at the South Main and College intersection. We had to find a solution to speed up traffic there. I am introducing an ordinance for NO LEFT TURNS at this intersection. The Plans and Traffic Committee, of which I am chairman, is all in favor of this ordinance.

I'll tell you more later.

Uses Raid Shelters For Garages, Storage

By PRESTON GROVER

HELSINKI, Finland (AP) —

This little country on the frontier of two worlds is building air-raid shelters with methodical Nordic thoroughness, then converting them promptly into garages, and storehouses for trunks and suitcases.

This started in 1959 when several countries, including the United States, talked seriously about air-raid shelters.

The Finns, who have had 42 wars with the Russians through the centuries, enacted a law. It requires that every private house have a shelter and that every apartment house provide underground protection for its occupants, but not under the building itself. The result is that nearby, every apartment house project has space for an underground shelter. When built, they serve as garages.

In Helsinki they are made in solid rock because the whole city is built on a sunken mountain ledge.

Even the big government office building is building a shelter.

No one seems quite sure whether any specific alarm started the bomb-shelter movement. However, one official recalled that it was around the time that Soviet Premier Khrushchev gave the West an ultimatum about signing a treaty with East Germany and expelling the Allies from Berlin. If you ask people whether Finland is preparing for a nuclear war most of them laugh, but a few of them turn serious and say you can't take chances these days.

The Finns remember Nov. 30, 1939, when Russian bombs began falling on the city even while the Finnish Cabinet thought it was still negotiating.

The raid was half over before the Finns could convince themselves that they were in a war. That made the Finns so mad they went out and gave the Russians a sound drubbing for sev-

Illinois Power certifies that every Medallion Home has been checked for adequate wiring, heavy-duty circuits, special purpose circuits, general purpose circuits, outlets, light wherever needed, and at least four major electric appliances, including an electric range.

FOR CITY TREASURER VOTE FOR ROSE COSGRIFF

My late husband, Thomas Cosgriff, and I owned and operated the Cosgriff Cafe on West State Street for many years. He was manager of the Jacksonville Country Club for a number of years, and later we operated the Cosgriff Wholesale Company. My experience as cashier and treasurer of these businesses and having charge of the records, plus my training at Brown's Business College, qualify me to fill the office of City Treasurer. I have always enjoyed meeting the public, and believe this is an important part of the City Treasurer's job.

I am a charter member of the Pilot Club and was active in getting the Morgan County Blood Bank started. I have always been interested in and supported projects aimed at the betterment of Jacksonville. I am the mother of two daughters, Mrs. Barbara Bast and Mrs. Donald Blesse.

Your vote on April 20 will be greatly appreciated.

Small Crop Pushes Up Prices Of Potato

By LEIF ERICKSON
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —
You with the potatoes and gravy, appetite are paying more for your taste this year than Americans ever have.
It's because the nation's 1964 potato crop was the smallest in seven years — nearly 25 million 100-pound bags under the previous five-year average of 266 million bags.
All major producing areas but Maine were hit last year by bad weather and frosts.
The acreage finally harvested
— 1.3 million acres — was the smallest since 1887, reports the U.S. Department of Agriculture.
Supply and demand have boosted San Francisco retail prices to 79 cents for a five-pound sack of No. 1 Oregon Klamaths, sized from six to 14 ounces.
In Idaho, land of the premium
russet baking potato, 1964 production dropped to 36.3 million bags, a decrease of 14 million from 1963.
Idaho russet bakers cost 20 cents a pound.
Potato prices stabilized at high levels in October and now are peaking just before the new crop starts coming in.
"In 33 years in the potato business I've never seen anything like this," said George Burger, a San Francisco potato broker.
He brought in a carload of Canadian potatoes to keep his hotel and restaurant customers

Inspects Illinois From Air

Johnson was prepared to promise state and local officials that the federal government was ready to expedite federal disaster relief funds that could amount to the millions of dollars. The money would be used for replacing or repairing roads, bridges and other public facilities and, in some cases, to provide assistance for farmers and small-business men.

Accompanying him on the hastily arranged trip were relief officials and a large delegation of Congress members.

Truman Blames World Leaders For Peace Lack

NEW YORK (AP)—Harry S. Truman, 20 years after he became president, says he is bothered by conditions in a world without peace — and he places the blame on the world's leaders.

Truman spoke Tuesday night after receiving the 25th anniversary award of Freedom House. He cited him for decisive leadership which gave hope to a "battered world."

The bronze plaque was presented to Truman by Chief Justice Earl Warren who said of the former president: "He has furthered the cause of freedom not only in this country, but throughout the world."

The dinner was attended by 1,200 persons, including six former Truman Cabinet members.

In his acceptance speech, Truman, who will be 81 on May 8, said of the current global unrest and bloodshed:

"Of one thing we are certain. It is not the fault of any one person — or group of people. The fault lies with our leaders. We have reason to hope that the solution will come from the people, who will make themselves heard and defy those who would lead them to strife and aggression. This — and a strong United Nations — are our main hope to avert another catastrophe."

Freedom House is a non-partisan organization devoted to promoting principles of freedom. Previous winners of its award were Dwight D. Eisenhower and Sir Winston Churchill.

Steel Union Calls Meeting On Pact Deadline

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Top negotiators for the United Steelworkers Union were called to a meeting today to decide whether to extend the May 1 basic steel contract deadline, press for day and night bargaining or gear for a strike.

The negotiators met for two hours Tuesday with union President David J. McDonald to consider ways of ending a deadlock in the steel talks. Sources present said the alternatives were boiled down to those three.

There was no real sentiment, sources said, for eliminating any of the union's major economic demands. It is estimated these would cost more than $1 an hour over three years.

Talks have been deadlocked on the industry's refusal to make a counter offer. The industry considers the demands preposterous.

McDonald said nothing specific was decided at the union meeting.

Italy's Rail Strike Hits At Tourist Season

ROME (AP) — Strikes hit Italy's railway system today and closed the nation's opera houses and concert halls at the height of the Easter tourist season.

The railway strike was to last only 24 hours. The strike in the opera and concert houses was called for today, Thursday and Saturday.

The rail strike halted practically all service on the state system, delaying the annual Holy Week influx into Rome. Only a handful of the 7,000 daily trains operated. Most international trains were halted at the Italian border.

Special buses shuttled passengers between Milan and the main railway stations on the Italian-Swiss and Italian-French frontiers.

Traffic police reported jams on major highways.

The rail strike was called to protest a Ministry of Transport decision to give 2,000 high-level ministry employees overtime pay for work on a railway modernization system.

Shelve Voting Rights Bill Until After Easter

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress put aside President Johnson's voting rights bill Tuesday to take an Easter holiday.

The Senate cleared the way for action on the measure after it returns to work April 21.

The House Judiciary Committee met briefly, then suspended its closed-door consideration until April 28.

Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., indicated it will be May before the committee acts on the measure.

When Johnson outlined the bill at a joint session a month ago, he urged Congress to act swiftly, even if it had to work nights and weekends.

Senate leaders had threatened to call off the Easter recess to speed action. Instead, they paved the way for action after the break.

Southern Democrats raised no objections when Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana sought unanimous consent to make the bill the pending order of business.

That means that when debate begins, it will be on the bill itself, not on a motion to put it formally before the Senate.

After that, he said, the House will be in recess and most committee members will be out of town.

GOP Calls For Showdown Talks On Remap Soon

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—A Republican policy statement today called for a showdown meeting Tuesday of the Illinois House-Senate Conference Committee on Reapportionment.

The statement was issued after the committee met today and failed to agree.

If agreement is not reached April 20, a new committee would be formed.

The Republican statement threatened to demand that the new committee's sessions be thrown open to the public.

The statement demanded a vote Tuesday on whether House and Senate reapportionment shall be done on a three-division basis.

Democrats want some Chicago legislative districts to extend into suburban areas.

Republicans want districts contained either in Chicago, Cook County suburbs or in downstate.

Red And White Drawing Winners

The 1965 Ford Falcon drawing, sponsored by the Red and White stores, was awarded to Archie Brown of Tallula and the RCA color television set was won by Gene Howdeshell of Nebo Tuesday night.

Approximately 96,000 entries were turned in at local Red and White stores in 15 counties.

The drawing was held Tuesday night at the Dunlap Motor Inn.

GRAIN PRICES TILT TOWARD FIRMNESS

CHICAGO (AP)—Prices tilted generally toward firmness today in the grain futures market with some contracts moving up major fractions of a cent a bushel.

Nearby soybeans advanced a cent or more after a weaker start when there appeared to be a moderate volume of short selling.

The selling pressure eased quickly, though, when it seemed the offerings were being quickly absorbed. Brokers noted, too, that the market had not recovered entirely the setback of Monday.

Support for grains was understood to have included a little commercial demand all around.

Soybeans were 1/2 cent a bushel higher to 1/2 lower, May $3.00 1/4; wheat unchanged to 1/4 higher, May $1.50 1/4; corn 1/4 to 1/2 higher, May $1.32 1/4; oats unchanged to 1/2 higher, May 73 cents; rye 1/4 to 1/2 higher, May $1.18 1/4.

Postpone Denial Of Gray's Reappointment

him. Gray, of Prospect Heights, commented angrily to newsmen:

"If one company and one newspaper can do this to one citizen, nobody in this state is safe."

As Gray strode from the hearing he was met by Charles H. Percy, defeated Republican candidate for governor, who shook his hand. Percy told reporters he did not approve of the committee action.

Kerner said he would continue to work to strengthen FEPC but that it grew harder to find commission members "because of the abuse and injustice which they see heaped on others."

"So it is that one single incident and one single company has dictated policy to the Republican leadership in this state," he said.

Only slight references were made during the 2 1/2 hour hearing to the Motorola case which touched off the controversy over Gray's leadership.

A State Supreme Court ruling is sought on whether the commission was justified in finding that Motorola discriminated against a Negro job applicant.

A Circuit Court judge in Chicago upheld the commission's authority to make the discrimination ruling but reversed an award of $1,000 damages.

All but three Republicans of the Senate committee voted to confirm Kerner's other two FEPC reappointments: James Kemp of Chicago and George Seaton of Hinsdale.

Voting against them were Sens. Everett R. Peters of St. Joseph, Paul Broyles of Mount Vernon and Dennis J. Collins of DeKalb.

Spokesmen for the Republican majority said they voted against Gray on grounds he exceeded authority given the commission by the 1961 FEPC act. They said he also had lost the confidence of the business community.

Schedules for the assemblies and programs are presently being worked out with superintendents of each of the school districts.

Findley Area Voters Against Vietnam Treaty

WASHINGTON — A Congressman's survey suggests that west-central Illinois citizens are 3-to-1 opposed to negotiating a settlement in Vietnam.

Rep. Paul Findley (R-Ill.) today released a preliminary report on answers to one of his survey questions. It read, "Should the U.S. negotiate with the Communists for a settlement in Vietnam?"

Of 7,024 returns, 1,544 voted yes, 4,804 voted no, and 676 did not venture an opinion.

Findley said many added comments on the question, ranging from proposals for an "immediate pull-out from all Asiatic areas" to stepped-up action in North Vietnam.

He said majority sentiment seemed to him best summed up by a Jacksonville, Illinois housewife who wrote, "We should continue to fight the Communists until we can force them to negotiate on our terms."

He said questionnaires were sent to names selected at random from telephone directories.

Centenary Men Plan Easter Services At Lake

The 17th annual Easter Sunrise Service, under the sponsorship of the Men's Club of Centenary Methodist church, will be held Sunday, April 18th, at Jacksonville Boat Club on Lake Mauvaisterre, Nichols Park, Jacksonville, at 5:00 a.m. Rev. David Ericson of Centenary Methodist church will conduct the service and Dr. Frank Nestler of Grace Methodist church will deliver the Sunrise Message.

This particular service is unique and inspiring inasmuch as it is strictly an open air service, presented in nature's own natural setting. As the sun rises across the lake from the far shore by boat. On reaching the Boat Club he will come ashore to deliver the Easter Sunrise message. Many who have witnessed this simple but impressive service in past years have gained from it a greater realization of the Easter season.

Easter Sunrise services at Lake Mauvaisterre were first held in 1949, and this outdoor setting has continued to be the site of these services for the past 17 years. A public address system enables those who wish to remain in their cars to do so. Ample parking space will be available, and members of the Men's Club will be on hand to assist in the parking of cars. An estimated crowd of some 500 persons attended last year's service, and facilities are more than ample to accommodate this many and more.

Although fair weather has always prevailed in the past, in the event of rain the service will be held at Centenary Methodist church on East State street.

Although sponsored by the Men's Club of Centenary church, this is a non-denominational service and everyone in the Jacksonville area is cordially invited to attend. Being non-denominational, no offering will be taken.

Following the Sunrise service, the Senior M.Y.F. will serve breakfast in the new Fellowship hall of Centenary church. The menu will consist of juice, bacon and eggs and rolls. Price will be by donation, "Pay what you please." Serving will begin immediately following the Sunrise service and last through 7:30 a.m. Proceeds will be used for a worthy project of the M.Y.F.

Respect For Property

Along with the "voice of the turtle" each spring is heard the tinkle of breaking glass. Vandals across the country cost American citizens millions of dollars each year in broken windows. School systems in 32 cities reported that their glass replacement bill last year totaled two and a half million.

The worst of the broken window period is from April through November. Warm weather brings out the rebel. It happens in communities of all sizes.

This is only one form of vandalism. Taken all together, the senseless destruction of property has long been a plague in our society. Few crimes are more useless or wasteful.

More is needed than floodlights on the outside of school buildings to deal with this problem. Though often repeated, it remains true that respect for property begins at home. Parents of young vandals have been known to dismiss the offense as mere "high spirits." Boys will be boys, all right, but they will be men some day. To be good men they need a decent set of values, including respect for property.

Mail Service Probe

That perennial target of calumny, the United States mail service, is in for some more whacks. This is assured by the decision of a House Postal Operations subcommittee to resume an investigation it supposedly completed last year.

The House did not act on the report filed after the first round of hearings. Since then, thanks largely to the evangelism of Rep. Glenn Cunningham of Nebraska, there has been a greater than usual demand that Congress do something about slow and inefficient handling of the mail.

"Greater than usual" is great indeed. Public dissatisfaction with the mail service is chronic. It also is, despite the acknowledged difficulty of handling more than 70 billion pieces of mail a year, based on solid grounds.

Our mail service is poor, both by absolute standards and in comparison with some foreign systems. If the House subcommittee can build up a sufficient case to prod the House into action, the public will have been well served.

Dear Ann:

Voices Disapproval of Smoking

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: Maybe I'm a nut but my blood pressure zooms about 50 points when I see my wife smoke a cigarette.

Although I don't smoke myself I know a lot of good people who do. I am not opposed to smoking on moral grounds, but some women look terrible when they smoke and my wife looks worse than most.

Ethel talks when she smokes. The cigaret just dangles in the corner of her mouth and she looks like a pool shark or the house man in a 21 game. When the smoke curls up into her face she squints her eyes and the mascara begins to run.

Ethel smokes filter tips. Sometimes she absent-mindedly lights up the wrong end of the cigaret and the house smells like the wind is coming from the packing house in Omaha.

"I don't want to get into a thing with Ethel about her smoking, but I sure wish she'd quit. Do you think I have the right to ask her?" —SPARKY

Dear Sparky: Of course you do. And she has the right to do as she pleases. If a woman doesn't mind discoloring her teeth, fouling her breath, smelling up her hair, setting fire to a few hundred dollars every year, turning small holes in her clothes and the furniture, and finally, if she chooses to ignore the evidence that there is a link between lung cancer and cigaret smoking — well, that's her business.

Dear Ann Landers: I work in a warehouse. My foreman is stealing merchandise by the carload and it burns me up. I have seen him put the stuff in his truck twice. Others in this department have seen him, too, and we have talked about it, but nobody wants to stick his neck out. If this man denied it and got off, it could mean our jobs.

It is no secret that the foreman has something going with the bookies almost every day. He bets the horses on three and four different tracks all over the country — and not small amounts either.

My wife tells me not to be a hero. Her advice is "Keep your mouth shut and mind your own business." I wish I hadn't seen what goes on but now that I have seen it I feel like a louse looking the other way and letting him steal from a company that's been awfully good to me — and to him, too. What should I do? —CHICKEN

Dear Chicken: I am a great believer in the saying "Keep mouth shut and minding your own business—but not in matters that involve criminal practices.

Keep your eye on the foreman. The next time he hauls out merchandise speak up. Tell him you've seen him do this before. If he doesn't put the stuff back make it clear you'll report him.

It's not enough to be FOR what is right and honorable. You must also be AGAINST what is wrong and dishonorable. Furthermore, you must have the courage to put your mouth up where your principles are.

Confidential to HATE MYSELF: It's awfully hard to "stand on your own two feet."

when one foot is in your mouth. Only when you learn to exercise self-control and judgment will things get better for you.

Confidential to DON'T KNOW WHAT TO BELIEVE: In the absence of better proof than you have been able to produce in your letter, I hope you will believe she is telling the truth. A woman doesn't have to run after a man to catch him—for precisely the same reason a trap doesn't have to run after a bear.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

We, the Women

Best Wrinkle-Eraser — Your Attitudes

By RUTH MILLETT

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. "Age should not have its face lifted, but rather teach the world to admire wrinkles."

Teaching today's world to admire wrinkles would seem to be a hopeless task. But women could do a lot to teach the world to ignore wrinkles if, as the wrinkles appeared, women would make the most of the womanly qualities age can't touch.

A woman of any age can be a good listener, and an appreciative listener is always nice to have around.

A woman of any age can be a helpful, dependable friend, relative and neighbor — and no one has too many of these.

A woman of any age can be vitally interested in others, instead of being self-centered, and such women fit in with any age group.

A woman of any age can look attractive, wrinkles and all, if she is always well-groomed, suitably dressed and pleasant-faced.

A woman of any age can become knowledgeable about anything that interests her. A person who knows a great deal about any subject is respected for that knowledge.

A woman of any age can cultivate the habit of making others feel happy with their lot, a talent all too infrequently put to use.

A woman of any age can have an enthusiastic zest for life and an eagerness for new experiences that keeps her young in spirit.

A woman of any age can be completely and charmingly feminine, so long as she is happy to be a woman and never stops trying to please.

Timid Planning Slows Pace of Space Program

By RAY CROMLEY

Washington Correspondent Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The super-functioning of Gemini and Ranger shows the highly professional, steady progress the United States is making in space.

But it also illustrates (remember Gemini was 16 months behind schedule) that we are not taking full advantage of scientific breakthroughs.

The government sets up a technical plan for defense or space, then tends to stick to it, even though radical new discoveries made along the way may make that plan obsolete.

One of the most sensational electronic advances in history is taking place right now in the development of molecular electronics in which tiny particles of certain materials can replace entire circuits. Research and development expected to take almost a decade were achieved in four years.

But the United States hasn't done the military-space planning necessary to make immediate full use of this extraordinary break-through. Some of the value of the speed of the research has thereby been lost.

Major leaps forward depend on standing back every so often and looking at the program with new glasses. As one top-flight military scientist puts it, "our planning has been a little too timid."

Another part of the space problem is that much government-financed research has become slow and plodding. Scientists are not allowed full freedom to exploit new ideas that aren't part of the program. Too much of what they do (if they and their companies or universities are to be paid) must fit into the planned pattern of what's needed for a specific space or defense mission.

On the surface, this sounds like a practical way to program research to avoid waste and prevent scientists from spending government money in hazy woolgathering.

Paradoxically, U.S. experience has shown that topflight scientists who are allowed freedom to research where their imagination sends them without regard to the "usefulness" of results, turn out more significant useful scientific findings than "usefully oriented" men.

Many great discoveries are accidental offshoots of other research. An alert man, working in one area, notes something startling not necessarily germane to what he's doing. If he takes off and follows that lead when it comes to him, he may make a key discovery.

Discoveries in one field open wide insights into other fields. Right now, Defense Secretary McNamara sees no major military mission in manned space flight. Therefore, a sizable number of interesting space leads are not being explored with vigor.

Instead, sizable funds are going into the improvement and development of known systems which may quickly become obsolete.

Even the bureaucratic Russians are showing more imagination in developing new approaches.

They are putting a great deal of effort into exploring certain radical space and defense concepts the United States is cautiously plodding ahead on.

Most of these ideas probably will not pan out. But if a few do work, the Reds will be able to leapfrog as they did with their early powerful rockets. Big rockets were not pursued with energy in the United States because there was no direct mission in sight.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The diplomatic side of the Vietnamese war is beginning to look like a table-tennis game.

President Johnson bats one to the North Vietnamese Communists; they bat it back.

Last week, to try to get peace talks started, he said they could begin without any strings attached.

But the Reds said what he proposed was all tied in strings. Now they have laid down a peace program with strings of their own.

For two months after Johnson ordered North Viet Nam bombed, to stop the Red guerrilla attacks on American-backed South Viet Nam, his administration took this position:

"The key to the situation remains the cessation of infiltration from North Viet Nam and the clear indication by the Hanoi regime that it is prepared to cease aggression against its neighbor."

This policy, and the continued bombing, got Johnson criticism at home and quite a bit abroad.

This put pressure on him to shift tactics a bit.

When 17 neutral nations said the peace talks, if held, should have no preliminary conditions attached, the pressure on Johnson was intensified.

The President in his nationwide broadcast April 7 said he would be willing to have "unconditional discussions" with the North Vietnamese about settling the war.

But he said the United States would settle only for an arrangement which will secure the independence of South Viet Nam.

He said withdrawal of American forces depended on working out such an arrangement.

His assistants said that while this country was willing to talk with North Viet Nam or Red China about peace it would not talk about it with the Red guerrillas fighting in South Viet Nam because they are only the agents of North Viet Nam.

North Viet Nam's response to this was that while Johnson talked of "unconditional discussions" he was actually surrounding them with conditions before any talks could begin.

And, North Viet Nam said, the conditions were unacceptable.

The Russians called Johnson's talk a "noisy propaganda campaign." North Viet Nam's President Ho Chi Minh reportedly called Johnson's talk the "day-dreams of a madman."

Secretary of State Dean Rusk said he was disappointed with all this.

Tuesday Premier Pham Van Dong of North Viet Nam laid down a four-point peace program which stated the Communist conditions for peace, one of which called for American withdrawal.

In addition, he said South Viet Nam's internal affairs would have to be settled according to the program of the Red guerrillas, although Johnson said the United States wouldn't even discuss peace with the guerrillas.

All this might seem to throw a gloomy cape over the prospects for peace but in this dark moment U.S. officials thought they saw a ray of light.

The week before last some of them were saying they doubted the American bombing was crippling the ability of the North Vietnamese Reds to infiltrate men and supplies for the guerrillas in South Viet Nam.

But now officials are saying the bombings are causing substantial trouble for the Reds and are interfering with the infiltration of men and supplies into South Viet Nam.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Find Headache Causes

Instead of Changing Pills

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.

Q — I am allergic to aspirin and other headache tablets. My doctor told me it was the quinine in them. Is there any other tablet I could take for headaches?

A — Many persons are allergic to aspirin or to quinine. There is, however, no quinine in aspirin or any of the leading headache tablets. Many other pain relievers are available but those that contain narcotics, barbiturates, dipyrone or phenacetin are not recommended for routine use.

Pyralgin are popular but require a doctor's prescription. Two that can be purchased without a prescription are Amalgin and Calmative — Analgesic tablets. Your doctor can tell you about others. If you have headaches frequently he should make an effort to find the cause and remove it.

Q — Since I had a hysterectomy 5 years ago I have had a headache most of the time and a continual ringing in my ears. I do not have high blood pressure and my doctor says my eyes are not the cause of the headaches. What do you think?

A — Removal of the uterus causes an emotional reaction in some women which may result in headaches but in most cases it is wise to look for some other cause. A persistent ringing in the ears is usually due to hardening of the arteries, but it may be due to anemia, prolonged taking of quinine, gout, kidney disease and other causes.

Q — I have been taking elixir of terpin hydrate with codeine daily for a chronic cough. Is this habit-forming? Does it have any bad side effects?

A — Although codeine is habit-forming the elixir you are taking contains only 1-5 of 1 per cent. This amount is not considered to be habit-forming. This elixir is an old standby for coughs but it has largely been replaced by newer cough suppressants. The terpin hydrate is a weak antiseptic and diuretic. It causes no side effects.

Q — What operation can a man have to protect his wife from having any more children?

A — The operation, a simple one, consists of tying the ducts that carry the sperm from the testicles to the seminal vesicles. This operation has no harmful effects on the husband.

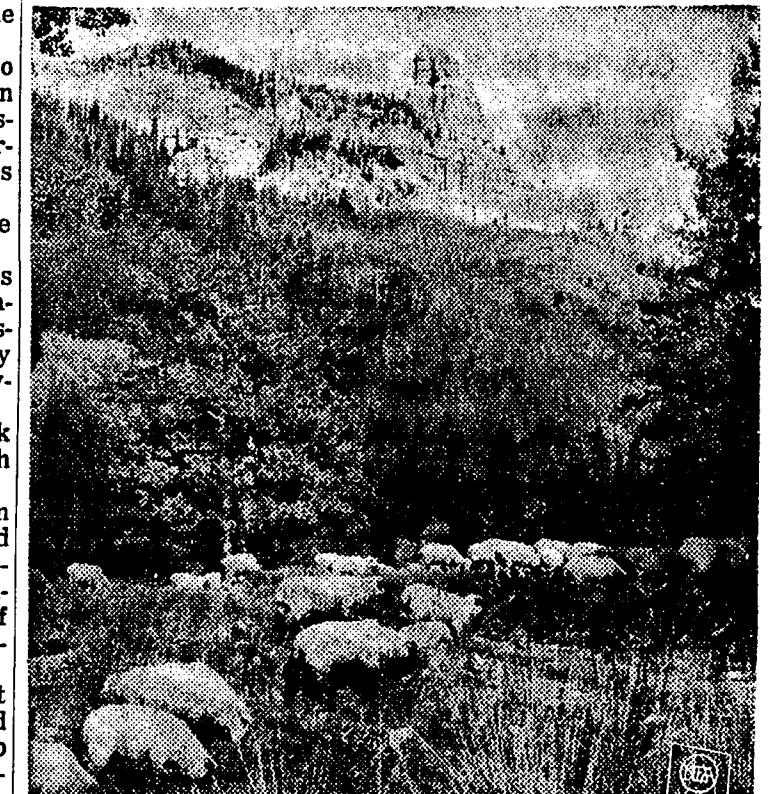

Q — Nineteen years ago when I was in the service I contracted syphilis. I was treated and thought I was cured. Three years ago I found that I still have a positive blood test and have been taking more treatment but the test is still positive. Can I be cured?

A — If you have had adequate treatment with modern antisyphilitic drugs, the chances are you are cured. A few people keep on showing a positive blood test even after they are cured.

Test Your 'Lamb Knowledge'

SPRING LAMBS graze in rugged Colorado clearings.

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

On our Colorado lamb trip we crossed the Continental Divide, the backbone of the North American continent. A few miles down we stopped to talk with a herdsman, Jose Alvardo, tending about 300 sheep on the slope. With his gun and his amazingly alert shepherd dog he watches over his hands of sheep and protects them against coyotes. Lamb is the favorite dish on a coyote's menu.

Later that day we arrived at Red Stone Castle in the heart of the Elk Mountains. We met some important sheep men there who explained that the grazing lands are rented from the government and only the most luxurious pastures are used.

They answered the question, "What is spring lamb?" For all practical purposes, they explained, "spring lamb" means that the animal is from 6 to 12 months old, and for that reason particularly tender. "Genuine spring lamb" refers to an animal usually under 8 months old, often even younger. "Baby lamb" or "houshold lamb" is found sometimes in de luxe restaurants and in a few specialty butcher shops only. These baby or household lambs are actually milked baby animals that weigh only from 20 to 30 pounds as compared to the 45 to 60 pound lambs usually found in your market.

The platypus, a mammal which lays eggs, is one of the most primitive of the world's living creatures. It has a long, flat, leathery muzzle which resembles a duck's bill. Its body is furry and it provides milk for its young. The adult male is about two feet in length, including its beaver-like tail. The male has on each side of its ankles a sharp spur connected to a poison sac. When these spurs are wielded the wounds can be fatal in small animals, but only painful in the larger ones and in man. The platypus is confined to Australia and Tasmania.

Though less than six inches long, the feather-tail glider can leap 30 feet or more. It belongs to a specialized group of pouch animals that volplane themselves from tree to tree.

Cancer Crusade To Begin Friday In Scott County

By Naomi Lawson
(Winchester Correspondent)
(Telephone 742-3490)
WINCHESTER — April 16 is the kick-off date for the Scott County Cancer Crusade according to Mr. and Mrs. Stan Faris, co-chairmen of the drive.
The ultimate victories against cancer will come from research, which has already brought about many advances in cancer control. A massive Cancer Prevention Study is following the life histories and health habits of more than 1-00,000 men and women to find clues to cancer causes. This could only be done with the help of Cancer Society volunteers. The American Cancer Society is a volunteer organization.
Yearly two million men and women volunteers give their help to this cause.

Last year, the American Cancer Society reported more than 12 million dollars given to cancer research. The society supported 397 project grants.
Biochemists, endocrinologists, virologists, geneticists, and pathologists, aided by ASC grants, are making progress against cancer. This means many lives are being saved. One of three cases are being cured.
Many people who have lost close relatives or friends to cancer often make memorial gifts to the American Cancer Society as a living memorial. Such gifts greatly assist the society's programs of research education and service to cancer patients.
Each contribution is deductible for tax purposes. Each is ac-knowledgeed. An appropriate memorial card is sent to the family of the deceased, the amount of the gift is not indicated.

Pasture Deadline
Farmers cooperating in the 1965 feed grain and wheat programs have been reminded that today is the day to "close the gate" and prevent further pasturing on "diverted acres."
The pasturing deadline last year was May 1.

Nimrod Funk, chairman of the Scott County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, also emphasizes there can be no harvesting from the diverted acres in the calendar year of 1965.

Farmers in Scott County have signed up 423 farms in the 1965 feed grain program and 362 farms in the 1965 wheat program. Signed up for diversion are 1,055 acres from wheat production and 9,403 acres from the production of feed grains. By putting these acres to conservation uses, soil erosion will be greatly reduced and water will run clearer in Scott County creeks and rivers," says Mr.
Funk.

All cooperators have been urged to carefully review the requirements of the program, and avoid any actions which might make them ineligible for payments. Questions about compliance rules will be answered at the local ASCS office.

Re-Elect Chipman Board President For District No. 117

William E. Chipman was re-elected president of the District 117 board of education at the regular meeting held Tuesday evening.

Dr. Ernst C. Bone was officially declared a new member of the board and the board also affirmed the position of William DeShara to the board for a second three year term.

Following the regular business of the board, the members went into executive session to consider personnel qualified for the position of principal at Lincoln Elementary school.

Chipman reported that a total of 832 votes were cast in last Saturday's school board election. Members then approved the vote canvass.

A note of gratitude for former member Walter DeShara was read into the minutes of the old board before it convened to elect the new board.

DeShara served a three year term from 1962-65. Mrs. Mayna Preston was re-elected secretary and Courtney Ford was re-elected treasurer.

Architect Plans
Superintendent J. A. Mann reported that architect's plans for the new vocational arts building would arrive in Jacksonville Thursday and hoped members would be able to study them.

Mann also noted that plans had been filed for program
"Operation Headstart." He explained that the program, which approved will start this summer, is one under the federal
"War on Poverty" campaign.

It will provide for the teaching of one class of approximately 15 pre-school children from families who earn $3,000 or less income.

The purchase of 38 table-arm chairs, costing approximately $16.50, for Jonathan Turner was approved by the board.

Mann proposed, and the board approved, a dollar increase in the pay scale of substitute teachers, raising their salary per day from $15 to $16.

Honor Dr. Leschin After Fifty Years In Mental Health

Forty years ago a young Russian girl, with raven-black hair and wearing hand-made shoes laced to her knees, landed in New York en route to Illinois. She spoke no English and had three dollars cash.

Tuesday evening, Miss Sophie N. Leschin, M.D., superintendent of Jacksonville State Hospital, that some Russian immigrant, was honored by the Morgan County
Medical Society for serving 50 years in medical practice.

Dr. Harold Visotsky, director of the Illinois department of mental health, was the featured speaker.

Now, Dr. Leschin can laugh at her introduction to this country. During the crossing, she had to order food by looking to see what others were eating, then pointing to it.

She borrowed money for her trip to Chicago where relatives were awaiting her arrival. Deciding her first need was to learn English, she attended a adult education classes and studied for her state medical examinations at night.

A naturally good memory and a great deal of determination helped and before long the young doctor, who had obtained her medical education in Russia before the revolution, was able to read whole paragraphs without stopping to look up words in the dictionary.

Passes 1st Barrier
Meanwhile, in spite of violating all food and health rules prescribed by doctors for their patients, the young doctor took her first state board exam only three months after arriving in America.

She passed six of the ten subjects, held back in the others largely by the language difficulties. Three months later she passed the remaining areas and won her coveted medical license.

never left the hospital staff since.

As a junior physician, Dr.
Leschin was starting at the very bottom and as a woman and the first foreign doctor ever to serve on the staff she had to cope with her still-considerable language problem.

Fights Influenza
During the six-month probation period influenza swept through the hospital, felling staff and patients alike.

The young Russian doctor put in long extra hours daily before and after, caring for the hospital patients and tending to sick staff members.

Bathing, dressing and feeding them, changing their bedding, and giving them medications took two to three additional hours each morning and evening but when the epidemic wore itself out and things got back to normal, "they were so grateful, I could have gotten away with murder," she quipped.

Dr. Leschin has served as assistant under several previous superintendents at the hospital.
She handled the duties of the superintendent between occasional chiefs on numerous occasions. Dr. Leschin was appointed as full-time superintendent in November of 1961.

Life Within Hospital
She directs the activities of more than 1,000 employees and between 2,500 and 3,000 patients.
Her life is obviously focused almost exclusively inside the wrought iron boundaries of the hospital.

Dr. Leschin was honored in 1962 by Illinois College with an honorary doctor of science degree at commencement exercises.

She attended medical school for five years at Kharkov, Russia, and served her internship in Alexandria.

She served with the Red Cross on the Turkish front during WWI and practiced medicine at Kharkov following the war.

She is a Fellow of the American Psychiatric Association, and member of several medical organizations.

recent season productions on the Illinois College theatrical stages.

The public is welcome to attend the program which will include short skits from each of the four plays, according to Miss Staley.

Barton, who graduated from I.C. last year, is presently doing graduate studies in theatre.
Preparations for the awarding of "nebbishes" has been in charge of junior Dianne Wiley, vice-president of Hilltoppers.

Clay made short work of mixing scotch and soda. David accepted the drink from Clay, stared at it but didn't taste it and immediately forgot it.

"I should be going to pieces over this. I keep telling myself Di's perfectly all right, she's well able to take care of herself. But is she?" He laughed mirthlessly at himself. "I told Clay I was afraid he might not bear up under pressure. It turns out I'm the one close to cracking."

"David," Cynthia spoke firmly, steadying him by example. "Tell us what happened."

"I was in the living room, prowling around, too keyed up to go to bed, and somebody came to the door, the same as I came to yours just now. Larry. There was Larry, all worked up, the suffering husband. He asked me, 'Is Di here?'" I ducked the question, by saying something inane, like, "Well, suppose she is?" and I wouldn't let him in.

"So?"

"He said they'd had a nasty scrap and she'd banged out and gone somewhere. She didn't use her car—she walked. He'd waited up for her and she hadn't come back. I told him yes, she was there. I'd given her a sedative and I wasn't about to disturb her—I'd send her home in the morning."

Cynthia said with a woman's intuitive empathy: "I wouldn't embarrass myself by going to a friend's place. I'd just wander over to the beach and sit on a bench and look at the water while thinking things over."

"And if she decided she didn't want to go back to a soreheaded husband tonight, Clay put in, 'then naturally she'd decide to turn to some member of her family after all.'"

It was a sure bet. Clay had heard footfalls on the sidewalk. The next moment Cynthia and David also heard them slowly approaching. This time the caller didn't ring. She simply opened the door and quietly came in.

"Diane," her father asked with the traditional sternness of fathers, "where have you been?"

"Over on the beach," Diane said, "watching the moonlight on the Gulf and mulling things over in my mind."

She was puzzled because they all smiled ruefully at that, but she didn't ask why. With a weary sigh she turned to a chair. Her dress, the one she had worn at dinner, had gone limp in the damp night air.

"Larry thinks you're at my house," David told her. "This is our chance to talk, finally, and we'd better make the most of it. Afterward, come home with me."

"And face Sara's bright and shining self in the morning? I'd rather not. That's why I'm here, instead of there any how," Diane gave Clay and Cynthia a look of childlike appeal. "May I stay the rest of the night, please?"

"Of course," Cynthia urged her in a quiet, motherly tone. "Now tell us why you and Larry blew up at each other tonight."

"The same old thing, only worse," she was plainly tired of thinking about it but still exasperated. "Another man merely says hello to me and Larry thinks he's making a pass. Clay saw the start of it just before dinner. He and I were having a private conversation. She hesitated as if distrusting the effect of what she was about to add. "This may surprise you, but it's not exactly a secret to Larry that Howie Gould was chasing me."

David was startled. "How could he have known?"

"From certain smirky remarks dropped around the country club. So of course he started throwing the wildest sort of accusations at me. More than once I've thought Larry had hired a private detective to watch me."

"What?" David blurted.

"Keep your wig on, Dad. No, I'm not sure. In fact, I don't really think so. I just had the feeling he was checking on me in some way. For instance, he could tell me he'd be home from one of his trips at a certain time, then slip back sooner and spy on me himself."

David was frankly appalled. "Did he ever actually do that?"

"I doubt it. As jealous as Larry is, there's a limit to how far he would cheapen himself. If he had seen me with Howie he wouldn't just watch and agonize and let me go off with Howie. He'd lose his temper, wade right in and break it up then and there."

"Then I'm sorry he didn't," David said incisively.

"I said Howie had kept phoning me until I discouraged him by hanging up on him. I admitted Howie had come to the apartment and the last time I'd shut the door in his face. And that was all there was to it. I warned Larry that if he asked me any more questions about Howie I'd leave him."

Her Freshly Ironed Hair Swings As She Strides In High Boots

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — As she strides along in knee-high boots, her freshly ironed hair swings long and straight and true.

Golden hoops dangle provocatively from pierced ears, and owl-eyed, horn-rimmed sunglasses lend an air of mystery.

Her sweater is turtlenecked; her jeans cut off above the knees disclose a strip of dark lacy stockings before the boots take over.

An exotic creature from some tale of espionage?

She is today's college girl — as she reveals herself in a recent poll of campus fads — perhaps taking a last fling at fantasy before becoming tomorrow's wife, mother, homemaker, career woman.

Mademoiselle magazine conducted the survey of 87 colleges and universities. It said the survey disclosed these new trends:

Pierced ears, which haven't enjoyed much of a vogue since grandma's day, are the rage. Transfixing academic lobes are golden hoops or long, arty earrings.

Girls who quail at the thought of surgery can get earrings that look as though they're for pierced ears.

The gypsy look is compounded by the prevailing hair style: long, smooth, swinging. Curly heads and perfectionists pull out the ironing board and go to work flattening locks.

Dark glasses are so prevalent it looks as if the girls are studying to be celebrities. To see to take notes in class they push the sunglasses up on their heads like headbands. Some wear them on their heads all the time.

Textured stockings are dearly beloved, especially peeping over the tops of tall boots, which apparently just about everybody wears.

Jeans and sweatshirts are still the college uniform for studying and out-of-class activities. Jeans are the traditional blue or the new wheat color, usually cut off around the knee area.

The V-neckline is out and the turtleneck is in — in sweaters, jerseys, T-shirts — worn with jumpers, wheat jeans and A-line skirts.

For the old grad who can't remember how kooky they dressed in her day, there is one consolingly conservative note. The girls like their makeup on the natural side. Of course, that pale lipstick may make them look as if they're candidates for the school infirmary — but at least white lipstick has flunked out.

Karloff Denies Tag Of High Priest Of Horror

LONDON (AP) — "I don't make horror films," said actor Boris Karloff. "Terror is a better word."

Here to make still another chiller, the 78-year-old Karloff denies the tag of the high priest of horror.

Vintage titles such as "Frankenstein," "The Mummy," "The Raven," "The Old Dark House," "Black Friday," "The Ape," "The Body Snatcher," and "Isle of the Dead" are but a few dark reminders of the actor's successfully sinister roles dating back to the 1920s.

"Horror," said Karloff, "spells revulsion. I do not believe in horror and sadism when introduced purely and simply for their own sake."

"The idea of terror — which is much better — is to make people's hair stand on end, and not to make them lose their breakfasts."

He went on: "The kind of formula with which I've been associated all these years is rooted firmly in legend. Frankenstein, Dracula, The Mummy, are all basically fairy stories."

He thinks they are familiar, in some form or another, in almost every country in the world, and that this is why the formula has so stubbornly survived.

"I still get letters from children who've seen the original Frankenstein on television," he said, "and they show remarkable powers of perception. To them the poor old monster wasn't an evil, horrifying object, but a helpless, inarticulate creature, forsaken and grossly misused by his creator. He was very badly done by, as the children say."

Karloff said the only time he ever fought with James Whale, director of the first two Frankenstein movies, was when the director insisted on the monster committing a cruel act involving a child.

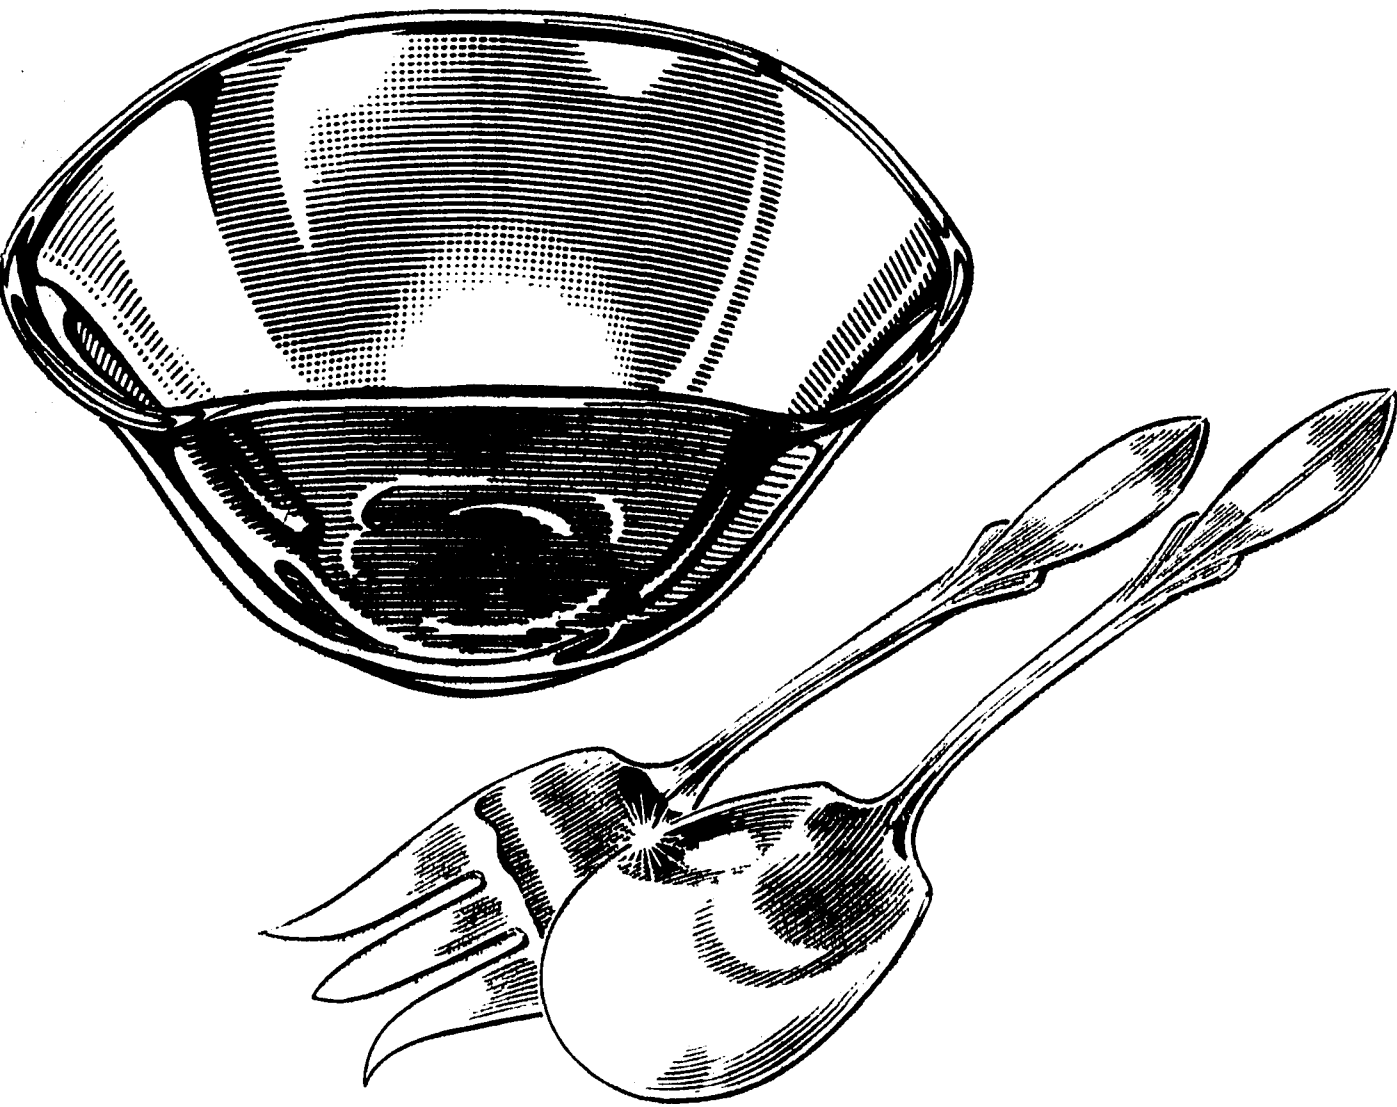

"I begged him to leave it out," said Karloff, "and the sequence was later removed."

These sentiments come quite naturally to Boris Karloff, who is in reality a cultured Englishman, born to the gentle name of William Henry Pratt.

In his latest film, "House at the End of the World," Karloff reverts — historically — to a classic monster role for the first time since "The Son of Frankenstein" in 1939.

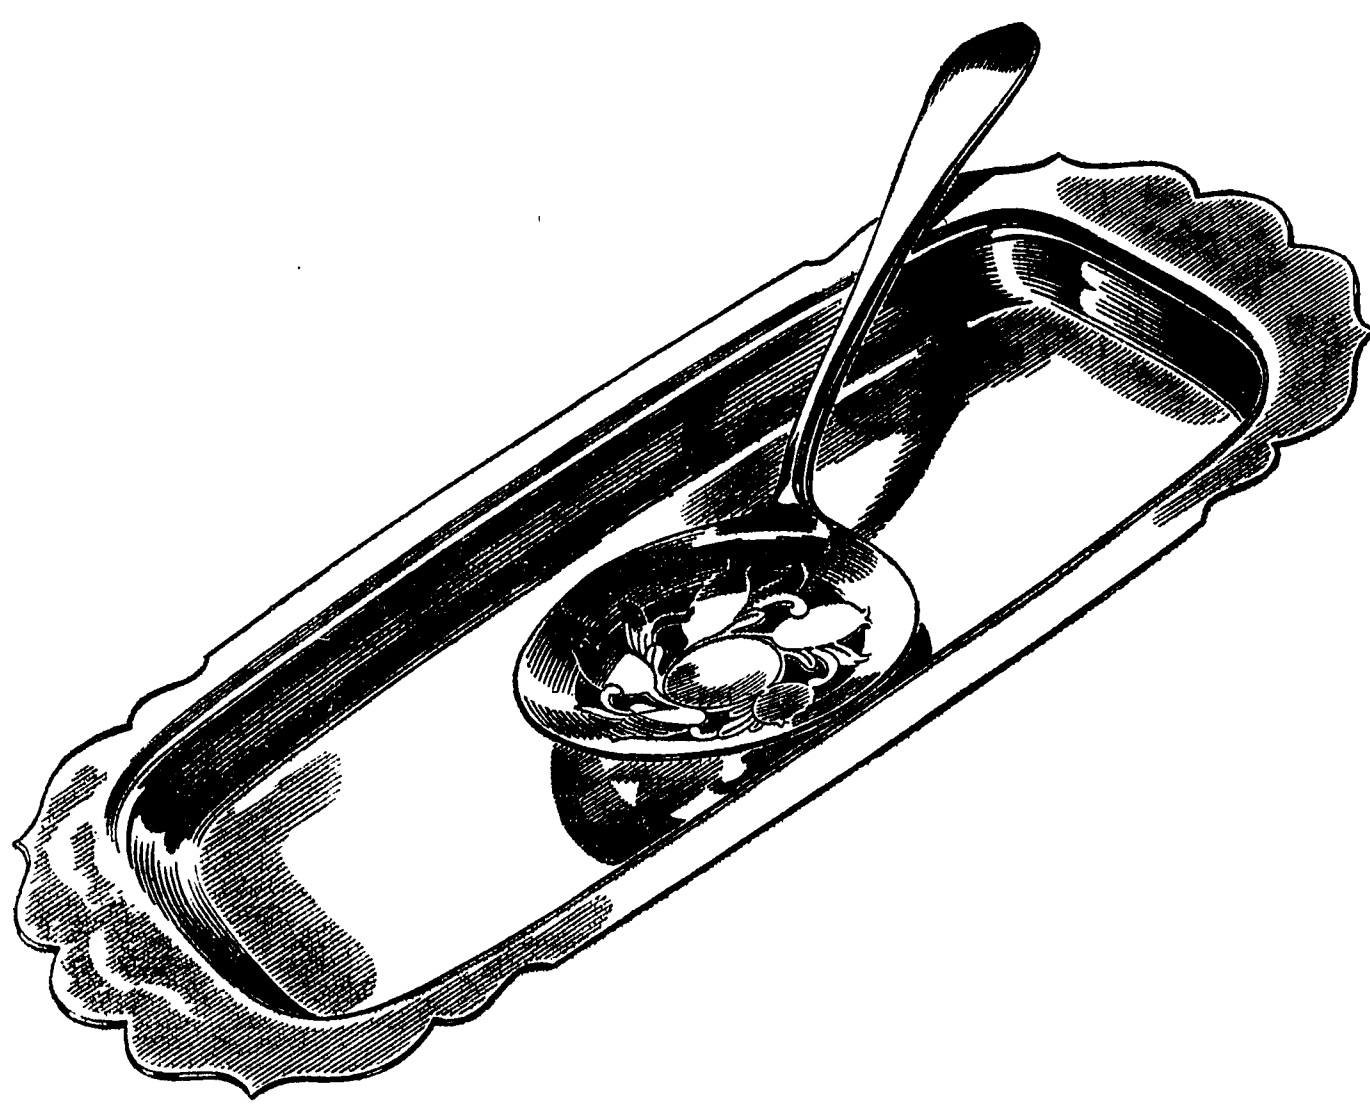

He is master of a creepy old house in a remote corner of England where many weird menacing rituals take place.

Boyle Updates Early Aspirations

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Your dreams and ambitions need periodic overhauling just as your diet or your car.

Dreams, like everything else, show wear and tear. Some need to be repaired or have a fresh gloss put on them.

Overhauling your dreams is a good game to play on a rainy weekend in spring. You simply sit down with pen and paper, and scribble down all the dreams and hopes of your life.

Then you scratch out the ones that are out of date or have become impossible, revise a few, perhaps add several.

You will find that the hurrying years have made some of your earlier aspirations ludicrous you can eliminate them.

For example, in going over my own list recently, I discovered that back in 1925 my two biggest goals were to be able to chin myself 25 times and to be the champ mah-jongg player in my neighborhood.

In honeymoon days in 1937 my wife and I were paying only a buck a day for groceries—not counting beer—and I hoped to cut the figure to 75 cents.

Obviously, such goals today are either impossible or nonsensical. After weeding out these and others, I completed a new budget of dreams.

Polly's Pointers Make 'Meter Minders'

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
DEAR POLLY — I am a den mother always on the lookout for ideas for things the boys can make. We have found making "meter minders" one of our best projects.

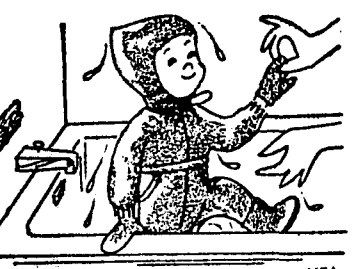

Use plastic pill containers with snap on lids. Punch or drill two small holes in each lid and insert a key chain through the holes in the top. The following poem is typed and the paper placed in a bottle with the printed side out.

Keep me filled with nickels
And you will never be stuck
When you pull up at a meter
With no change but half a buck.

The container is filled with nickels and hung over the automobile direction signal lever or gear shift so it is handy. The key rings were given us by the telephone company. —MRS. K. K. K.

DEAR POLLY — Readers who use return address stickers for their correspondence would find their correspondents very pleased if they enclosed one of the stickers in the letter, especially if your address has changed recently.

GIRLS — I think Ed's idea would be very good to acquaint our correspondents with our zip code numbers. It is impossible for me to remember even those of my own children. —POLLY

DEAR POLLY — My Pointer is for the mothers of small children. When my little ones come in covered with snow, I just pick them up at the door, carry them to the bathroom and stand them in the tub to undress them. I leave wet boots and mittens in the tub until the snow melts and keep a few hangers ready on the shower rod for wet coats and pants. This prevents the usual mess on the kitchen floor and no wet clothes draped all over the radiators. —MRS. L.G.

DEAR POLLY — When I opened a can of frozen juice, the juice would squeeze out the end on to my opener. My mother suggested tapping each end of the can to which end sounded hollow. If I open the hollow end there is no mess. —BECKI

World War I Auxiliary 385 met for their regular meeting April 7 at the V.F.W. home with 13 members present. Amy Dodsworth, president, presided. Irene Henderson acted as pro tem Patriotic Instructor. The opening prayer and pledge of allegiance to the flag was given. General Orders No. 8 were read by secretary.

Marie Wilm of Springfield District president of District 6 was welcomed, and she gave a very instructive talk. Several committees gave reports. Six members had attended the District meeting held at Springfield.

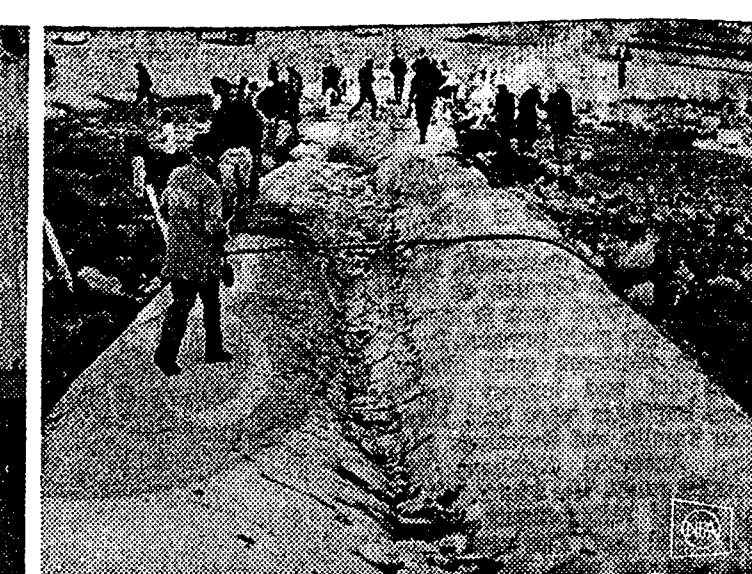

A rummage sale was scheduled for September. Prizes were won by Marie Wilm and Ila May Pierson.

TOWER TOPPLERS—What do you do with old smokestacks when they are obsolete? That problem faced executives of the Natural Gas Pipeline Co. of America in Fritch and Sunnyside, Tex. They decided the 200-foot, three-quarter-million-pound stacks had to come down. Felling them was just like felling a tree. Workmen sliced a wedge cut in the base of the stack to indicate the direction of the drop, cutting away 13½ inches of concrete at the base. Then used torches to cut through reinforcing steel. Looking like a huge cannon (center photo), stack starts its short journey to oblivion. Spectators swarmed atop the fallen giant (photo right) to take a last look at what had been a towering landmark for 34 years.

Routt Scores Early For Narrow 3-1 Edge

PETERSBURG — Three runs in the first inning ruined a sterling pitching performance by Portia's Don Kording here Tuesday afternoon, as the Rockets nipped the Blue Jays, 3-1, in a PMSC conference diamond tilt.

Kording, after some trouble in the opening frame, sparked the rest of the way, striking out 14 of the 27 men he faced, including ten strike outs in a row. He did not walk a man and gave up only five hits.

Routt's Kevin Hunter hurled the seven-inning distance, scattering five hits, two for extra bases, fanning five and walking two.

Routt got the only runs they needed in the opening round. Tom Murgatroyd opened with a single, stole second, took third on a Porta boot and scored on a fielder's choice by Dennis Bennett.

Catcher John Levins tripled in Bennett and scored on the second Bluejay miscue on Leo Carroll's grounder for a 3-0 edge.

Starting the second frame Kording pitched perfect ball to the next ten batters, until Hunter broke the string with a single with two out in the fifth.

The lone Porta tally came in the Bluejay fifth on triples by Wayne Jones and Terry Wallace.

Routt is now 1-1 for the season while Porta is 1-1, all games in the PMSC standings.

Fricke Sparks Triopia Rallies For 6-5 Margin

VIRGINIA — Dean Fricke contributed key hits in both innings here Tuesday afternoon, as Triopia rallied for four runs in the seventh to tie then went on to take a 6-5 PMSC conference edge over Virginia.

Behind 5-0 going into the sixth, Triopia scored once in the sixth and four times in the seventh, the big hit being Fricke's two-run double, then pushed across the deciding tally in the ninth on two singles, one by Natemeyer, and a fielder's choice.

The win boosts the Trojans in the PMSC lead with a 2-0 mark. Virginia is now 1-1.

Virginia took a 3-0 lead in the first with two runs coming on Ronnie Baptist's roundtripper. The other came when Rick Smith singled, stole second and third and scored on a passed ball.

Williams started off the Triopia seventh with a triple followed by Larry Crews' walk.

Another 20-game winning season by Spahn would put him in third place among the all-time winners. But the veteran dropped off to 6-13 last year with Milwaukee and now is pitching for a team that never has finished any place but last.

Spahn has won 356 games, more than any left-hander in major league history. He also is doubling in the role of pitcher.

The frosh-soph relay of (l-r) Abe Brown, Art McPike, Jim Bruner and Benny Richardson lowered their best time of the season again Tuesday, running the 880-yard distance in a sparkling 1:40.3, by far the best in the area. They are undefeated for the season.

Frosh-Soph Relay Lowers Best Time As Jacks Win Meet

The unbeaten frosh-soph relay team bettered its best time of the year Tuesday afternoon as the Jacksonville cindermen had no trouble in rolling up an easy triumph in a four-team relay held on the JHS athletic field.

The team of Jim Bruner, Art McPike, Benny Richardson and Abe Brown, running in that order, raced to a sparkling 1:40.3 timing in the 880-yards, by far the best in the Central Illinois area. They won by at least 60 yards over the next finisher.

JHS romped home first in nine of the 15 events during the afternoon and ran up a total of 117 points, far in front of Beardstown's 54, Greenfield's 21 and Quincy Christian Brothers' 18.

Jim Mann had a hand in two first for the Crimsons, winning the 120-yard high hurdles and running a leg of the winning 880-yard varsity relay. Larry Nortrup also ran in the relay and won the pole vault.

Brown added a first in the 180-yard low hurdles to his relay effort. Dennis Seargent returned to his specialty after an absence of several meets due to back trouble for a first in the broad jump with a strong leap of 20' 2".

CHAMPAIGN — University of Illinois baseball team will try again to play its home opener when it meets Illinois College at 3 p.m. Wednesday at Illinois Field.

Saturday's scheduled Illinois home opener against Parsons was rained out after 1½ innings, and will not be rescheduled. Illinois has finished only one game this spring, a 7-4 victory at Valparaiso.

The Illinois coach will make his pitching selections for this weekend's three games against Northern Illinois after Wednesday's contest.

Illinois College lost its opening game last week to Southern Illinois, 18-1, and fell to Quincy Monday, 7-2.

New Nichols Park golf pro, Bill Lynn, reports golfers are out in force this early in the young season at the Nichols course.

"I would say that it has been running about 25 to 30 per cent above normal for this time of the year," comments Lynn.

The park course has taken on something of a new look this spring, and continued improvements and changes are planned for the near future.

All bridges on the course are new this year, as well as the entire pro shop. Lynn reports the course is in pretty good shape this year, although he hasn't been able to do very much as yet.

No fewer than 198 golfers toured the nine-hole course last Sunday, including 31 in a Peoria Handicap Tourney. The normal day brings about 90 golfers out.

"I think the course looks a bit better for this time of year. We started working on it back in the winter," says Lynn, "but we haven't got around to all we have planned."

"We plan to have a tournament here each weekend; this weekend it's a two-man, low-ball tourney," says Lynn. "It is open to all golfers, and we would like to see about 25-30 teams playing."

Six electric golf carts are now available for rent at Nichols. The rates are the same as last year, 75 cents for the nine holes, but season tickets are ten dollars cheaper at $40.

Already this year there have been a few oddities at the course. Last week an unidentified golfer got off quite a slice on number two, a ball that crashed through a window at the adjoining book bindery, slightly cutting a worker inside. Then last Friday someone made off with the ninth hole flag and pin, but Lynn reports they have been recovered.

Wonder who George Kording was pulling for in the Routt-Porta game Tuesday afternoon. "Willie," assistant Routt coach, sat on the Rocket bench while his brother Don was pitching for Porta.

Kording, former Illinois College mound ace, watched his brother strike out 14 Routt batters, including ten in a row, give up five hits, but lose 3-1 in the junior's first prep baseball starting assignment.

Reports were that Kording remained rather 'noncommittal.'

Pena Paces Cubs Past Cardinals With 2nd Homer

CHICAGO (AP) — Rookie shortstop Roberto Pena smashed his second homer in two days and scored an insurance run on an error as the Chicago Cubs defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 3-1 Tuesday.

It was first decision of the season for both clubs which played a 10-10 tie called after 11 innings because of darkness in Monday's opener.

Pena's homer, backing a five-hit pitching job by Bob Buhl, broke a three-inning hitless skein by Curt Simmons, the loser.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia 76ers raced to a 15-point halftime lead and with their 7-foot-1 ace, Wilt Chamberlain in foul trouble, had to withstand a Boston rally to defeat the Celtics 112-106 and deadlock the National Basketball Association Eastern final series at three games apiece.

The seventh and deciding game will be played in Boston Thursday night.

Chamberlain scored 24 of his 30 points in the first half as the 76ers forged an early lead that Boston never was able to overcome, although the Celtics moved to within three points at 107-104 with 1:30 left in the game.

Chamberlain committed his fifth personal foul with 11:42 to play in the final period and, as a result, had to play it comparatively safe against Boston's big Bill Russell.

The Philadelphia giant failed to score in the last quarter, as Russell collected seven points and handed off numerous outlet passes.

Over-all, Chamberlain outscored Russell 30-22 and out-rebounded the Boston center 25-19.

JHS's Larry Angelo leads the pack around the first curve starting the half-mile Tuesday. Angelo soon lost the lead to Beardstown's Jerry Miles (2nd) but came on strong on the final lap to win going away in his specialty.

Lakers Nip Bullets To Claim Playoffs

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers held off a late rally by Baltimore and defeated the Bullets 117-115 Tuesday night to advance to the National Basketball Association final playoffs.

Jerry West scored 42 points for the Lakers and Dick Barnett added 31 as Los Angeles won the Western Division final series four games to two.

West, who scored at least 40 points in each of the six games, and totaled 278 for the series, made six clutch points and assisted on another basket in the final three minutes after Baltimore pulled to within 107-101.

West then sank two quick baskets to make it 111-101 in favor of Los Angeles, and after Baltimore chipped the Lakers' lead to 113-109, West fed a high pass which Gene Wiley dumped for an important field goal.

Again after Wally Jones scored for Baltimore, West was fouled and he sank two free throws.

Bellamy scored for Baltimore to make it 117-113, but the Lakers controlled the ball deliberately to run out the 24-second clock and when the Bullets regained control, only three seconds remained.

Bailey Howell sank a field goal at the final buzzer.

The Lakers will meet the winner of the Philadelphia-Boston Eastern Division finals, now tied three games apiece.

Loyola Nips Clan In 9th Frame, 2-1

NEW ORLEANS, La. — Loyola University of New Orleans pushed across a single run with two out in the bottom of the ninth inning here Tuesday afternoon to nip MacMurray, 2-1.

The Highlanders, who took their third loss in four games on their southern tour, had rallied to tie the contest with a single run in the eighth only to fall in the ninth.

Mac counted its lone run off Bob Doris, who gave up only three hits in the route-going job, in the eighth when Mike Bertolotto was hit by a pitch and eventually scored on a Loyola infield error for two bases.

The winning Loyola run crossed the plate in the ninth on three walks, two intentional, and a clutch single.

Randy Rose worked the first eight innings, giving way to losing hurler Tom Styczen in the ninth.

Louisiana State University clipped the Highlanders Monday afternoon, 4-3, giving the Clan a 1-3 mark on their six-game visit to the South.

Wills Says Record May Be Broken Soon

NEW YORK (AP) — Maury Wills says somebody will break his record of 104 stolen bases. It might just be a fellow named Maury Wills.

"I think it's possible," said the new captain of the Los Angeles Dodgers. "But if I should go for the record right now I'd never break it. The moment I decided to shoot at it, I'd start pressing and I would tighten up."

"You do better if you just let them flow, nice and easy."

Wills got off to a jack rabbit start by stealing two bases in Monday's opener at Shea Stadium. He believes in putting the pressure on the other fellow.

"You try to force the other club into mistakes," he said.

"Some people play more cautiously but where are they? In the second division. Name me one outstanding player who plays it cautious."

"If I became cautious I wouldn't be Maury Wills. I wouldn't be the captain of this club."

Must Get On Base

"It is a known fact that, if our club is going to be motivated, I have to get on base and do things. So do Willie Davis and Tommy Davis."

"The way I feel right now I think it is possible to go at top speed all the way. I feel better than when I was 18. Maybe I'm just getting my second wind. I weigh 173, and I weighed 164 in 1962 when I set the record. And they are a good, solid nine pounds."

"My mental state is fine. I had to go hard and hustle in spring training to show people who had a feeling I had slowed down. I feel I proved them wrong."

Walter Alston, veteran Dodgers' manager, discounted stories that he had thought of moving Wills to third base. "Maury is my shortstop," said Alston.

"Maybe three or four years from now when he has slowed down, we might think of third. But not now."

Alston said there were four things that had to happen before Wills could come close to his record. 1. Pitchers must come to a set position with men on base and umpires must enforce the balk rule. 2. Wills, of course, must get on base consistently. 3. The Dodgers must not be a club that consistently is three or more runs behind and needs a big inning and 4. Wes Parker must develop into a No. 2 hitter of the Junior Gilliam type.

Just for the record, Wills has won the National League stolen base title five years in a row with 50 in 1960, 35 in 1961, 104 in 1962, 40 in 1963 and 53 in 1964.

State Legislature

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — A Commission to loan its personnel to federal agencies endorsing the Civil Rights Act.

The Illinois Senate passed Tuesday a bill intended to prevent attacks on policemen.

The measure, which went to the House, states anyone commits aggravated assault if he knows the person attacked is a policeman or someone assisting an officer.

Aggravated assault carries a maximum penalty of $1,000 fine and one year imprisonment.

Highway Safety

A series of bills dealing with highway safety won Senate endorsement and moved to the House.

One bill would require a motorist, after passing a car, to return to his lane before coming within 200 feet of an approaching vehicle.

Two more bills would make it unlawful to drive across a filling station to avoid traffic controls and prohibit backing up a vehicle on a controlled access highway.

Other measures would make it a misdemeanor for a driver to flee when ordered by police to stop, and require that rear license plates be firmly attached and lighted.

Judges' Pensions

The Senate passed a bill adjusting judges' pensions to make up for differences in salaries.

Sen. Egbert Green, R-Pekin, said because the pensions are based on the last six years of service, older judges were not receiving benefits in line with judges more recently elected who drew higher salaries.

Other Bills Advanced

House passage also advanced to the Senate bills prohibiting use of titles such as major and doctor on election ballots, requiring professional fund raisers for religious organizations to register with the Illinois attorney general, and permitting the Illinois Fair Employment

Black Hand Clasps White Hand On Way To School, Mozambique

By LYNN HEINZLERING
LOURENCO MARQUES, Mozambique (AP) — Two schoolboys skip through a dusty schoolyard, one black hand clasped in a white one.

An African farmer jabbers in Portuguese across an irrigation ditch to his white Portuguese neighbor amid the green rice stalks.

On the busy streets of Lourenco Marques, shoppes of almost every shade known to man elbow each other amicably.

Here, in lush, tropical Mozambique, and across the continent in Angola, another Portuguese province, may rest the last chance for a genuine, multiracial society in Africa.

The Portuguese, who came to both shores of Africa more than 400 years ago, say they are determined to foster and maintain it.

The 35 member states of the Organization of African Unity want every foot of African soil under African or Arab rule.

With the aid of Algerian and Communist Chinese arms, the OAU has been supporting rebellions inside the northern frontiers of both Angola and Mozambique.

The Portuguese answer was to send more than 100,000 troops to the two territories, known as "provinces" in Lisbon and "colonies" to the nationalist leaders of black Africa.

What chance has Portugal, a nation of 10 million, of repeating in Africa what is known to Portuguese as "the glory of Brazil?"

Portuguese officials say they can handle any army the OAU could send against them in the immediate future. But poverty, ignorance and tribalism are major problems in Angola and Mozambique, as in independent nations to the north.

Education was not a bright spot in Angola and Mozambique during the first centuries of Portuguese rule. Now schools are going up. Both Angola and Mozambique have universities. The spending of about $120 million annually to defend the northern border areas has taken funds needed elsewhere. But farm settlement projects testify to the new energies being released.

Thousands of Africans are moving away from a subsistence level into the cash economy as small farmers. They get financial and technical assistance as well as marketing facilities for their rice, coffee, cotton, cashew nuts.

One of Africa's most unusual settlements comprises 13 villages along the Limpopo River around Guitja.

In what 10 years ago was barren bush country, a thousand Portuguese peasant families now live side by side. They tend rice and cotton in adjacent fields, send their children to the same schools, churches, dances and football games.

The project started with eight Portuguese families in 1954 after the Portuguese administration had dammed the Limpopo and dug a huge irrigation ditch. Now it includes the 13 villages — each with its church, school, stores, cafes and cemetery — stretching some 50 miles along the south bank of the river.

The requirements are simple. The head of the family must be not older than 45 and in good health. There are 500 families on the waiting list in Portugal and 900 African families trying to find a place in the scheme.

Each settler when he arrives is given 10-25 acres, depending on the size of his family, 24 acres of free grazing land, a pair of oxen, five heifers, a pig and a sow, one cow, five hens and a rooster. They also get a furnished house with three bedrooms, living room, kitchen and bath.

The settler contracts to pay the government about $3,000 by turning over one-sixth of his crop each year until it is liquidated. He then receives title.

African women like the houses but they don't know what to do with the tables and chairs. Often they eat on the floor as they always have done. One of the Portuguese administrators, Nuno Menano, says:

"The next generation will be different. The kids are all going to school together, studying religion together and going to dances together."

Opening lead—♦ A.

The primary requisite for an opening bid is a high card holding of 11 points or more. With those 11 high card points you consider opening; with 12 high card points you try to find an excuse to open; with 13 high card points you should open every time or at least 99 per cent of the time.

You don't need that much high card strength for an overcall. Here your primary requisite is playing strength.

Usually you need opening high card strength for a take-out double. Thus, in the early days of contract someone got the idea that an overcall showed less than an opening bid and a takeout double at least an opening bid. This idea has completely disappeared from expert circles today. The overcall does not deny opening bid strength and there are some hands that are not worth an opening bid but are worth a takeout double.

North's hand is not worth an opening bid. It is a sound takeout double of one diamond since North is well prepared for all other suits. The actual North doubled and then raised his partner in hearts whereupon South went on to the heart game.

South had an anxious moment or two in the play when West shifted to the five of clubs after his ace of diamonds held the first trick. It wasn't too much of an anxious moment since South rose with dummy's king of clubs. It held the trick and after that bit of mild good fortune South had no trouble making game and rubber.

What do you do?
A—Bid two hearts. If you respond one spade and partner rebids any way except with a spade raise you have no satisfactory next bid.
